2014 GLOBAL SUMMIT OF WOMEN WOMEN: REDESIGNING ECONOMIES, SOCIETIES

The Global Summit of Women is pleased to bring together women business, professional, and governmental leaders in Paris, France, for three days of stimulating sessions designed to explore practical strategies and best practices in accelerating women's economic progress worldwide. The world's leading global economic forum for women, now in its 24th year, the Global Summit of Women convenes delegates representing the three critical 'legs' of change – government, business and civil society – to assist in promoting greater economic opportunities for women. International Members and Partner organizations representing women on five continents are planning to participate in the 2014 Summit in France.

The theme of the 2014 Summit — “Women: Redesigning Economies, Societies” — reflects our belief that women hold the key to bringing about the necessary changes in the economy and in politics, as well as in workplaces and communities, in order for the global economy to grow and for societies to flourish. The Summit will explore the ways women as entrepreneurs and corporate executives are re-shaping the business world and redefining leadership globally, while working to create sustainable futures and restoring peace worldwide.

The 2014 Summit will inform delegates on how to access the French and larger EU market, showcase women business and government leaders from the region, provide skills-building sessions, as well as establish networks among such leaders. Join us at the Summit to share lessons for improving the lives of women everywhere.

WHAT THE 2014 SUMMIT OFFERS:

- ◆ Inspirational role models from every continent among our impressive roster of over 80 presenters;
- ◆ Ample networking opportunities at breakfasts, lunches, and receptions throughout the event.
- ◆ Information on doing business with France and the European Union;
- ◆ Insight into women driving business growth as consumers and business leaders;
- ◆ Numerous sessions to help 'grow' your leadership skills, your business, and your network... and more!

Influential across business, politics, education, entertainment, and the arts, Paris is one of the most economically robust cities in the world. In the Paris region you'll find the world headquarters of 30 Fortune Global 500 companies. At the western edge of the city sits La Défense—the largest dedicated, multi-purpose business district in Europe—where more than 1,500 companies have their headquarters.

WOMEN IN FRANCE

Women play an instrumental role in French business today, informing decisions and impacting the bottom line at some of the most powerful companies in the world. As a result of a legislative quota requiring companies to have at least 40% board membership of each gender by 2015, women are now 27% of board directors in France's 120 largest companies, making France a global leader in boardroom diversity.

Today, the French government has more women in cabinet-level ministerial positions than nearly any other nation, with ten of France's twenty senior ministers being women. This government, under President François Hollande, is the first French government with gender parity. In addition, Paris will have its first woman Mayor in history by the time of the Summit's opening.

The Global Summit of Women welcomes women in business, government and civil society globally to become more acquainted with France and its business community.

Summit President Irene Natividad discusses business leadership with Indra Nooyi, Chairman & CEO of PepsiCo, at the 2013 Global Summit of Women

"Thank you and the Summit for continuing to open my eyes and ears to new opportunities! I started coming as a corporate executive but now am an empowered and inspired entrepreneur. Women I met in the past who initially came as ministers or even assistants are now leading their nations... I never know who I will connect with, but with the Summit's unique camaraderie, whoever she is, she will offer her support as I will offer her mine."

Managing Director, Cx Catalysts (USA)

WHAT THE GLOBAL SUMMIT OF WOMEN MEANS TO WOMEN

"Seeing 1,000 people from 81 countries in a room is impressive. It is even more impressive when you consider that the topic of discussion is women, women's representation and development."

— Umran Beba, Senior Vice President for Asia, Middle East and Africa, PepsiCo

"The Summit was a symbol of a worldwide understanding which — using economic relations as its point of departure — conspires to bring together women from all over the world to form an enormous public-private sector partnership for long-term change."

— Hon. Ursula von der Leyen, Minister for Labor, Germany

"Participating in the Global Summit was a fantastic experience. The warmth and receptivity of the women was inspiring."

— Jody Williams, Nobel Peace Prize Winner

"Thank you for a very successful Summit. The plenary sessions and panels were of a very high caliber. I have had so many wonderful conversations with fascinating people from countries where I have never been and am unlikely ever to visit. It's very impressive how you manage to get all of these disparate parts to come together."
