You are invited to join women leaders from every corner of the world in Sydney, Australia at the 2018 Global Summit of Women — the premier international forum to accelerate women's economic progress worldwide. The 2018 Summit will salute women's achievements while continuing to explore practical strategies and best practices in improving women's economic status, whether they are corporate initiatives, public policies or NGO programs. The Summit's unique engagement of the three critical 'legs' of change – government, business and civil society – is reflected in its participants, presenters and partners. Over 70 International organizations representing women from five continents are planning to be part of the 2018 Summit in Australia, along with women government Ministers and multilateral agency executives.

The theme of the 2018 Summit — "Women: Creating Economies of Shared Value" — highlights the ability of women to develop a more inclusive economy as women advance their own businesses and careers. In addition, the 2018 Summit will inform delegates on how to access the Australian and Asia-Pacific market, showcase women business and government leaders from the region, and provide skills-building sessions, as well as establish networks among such leaders. Join us at the Summit to be inspired, to learn, and to share lessons with women from more than seventy economies around the world.

WHAT THE 2018 SUMMIT OFFERS:

Inspirational role models from every continent among an impressive roster of over 80 presenters;

Ample networking opportunities at breakfasts, lunches, and receptions throughout the event.

Information on doing business with Australia and the Asia-Pacific region;

Insight into women driving business growth as consumers and business leaders;

Numerous sessions to help 'grow' your leadership skills, your business, and your network... and more!

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA

One of the leading economies in the Asia-Pacific region and the 12th largest economy in the world, Australia is the proud Host of the 2018 Global Summit of Women. With spectacular landscapes and a rich ancient culture, Australia is a land like no other. Rich in natural resources, Australia makes a compelling destination for doing business with its stable government, open market and skilled workforce, all of which promote robust economic development. Home to some of the world's largest companies, the economy is firmly planted as a hub to the fastest growing region in the world — the Indo-Pacific.

Australia's Prime Minister, Malcolm Turnbull

With a vibrant women's entrepreneurial community, Sydney, the site of the 2018 Summit, was recently ranked as the 11th best city globally for women entrepreneurs and ranked 2nd for its business culture (Dell WE Cities Index). Its women have also been named "Most Empowered in the World" (Booz and Co. report) based on criteria including pay, education, and access to paid parental leave. Furthermore, Australia's Prime Minister Malcolm Turnbull has been leading the charge toward diversity in all aspects of society.

Australia has also been a global leader in instituting private sector initiatives to bring more women onto corporate boards. With the Australian Stock Exchange implementing gender diversity listing requirements for companies and the formation of an empowered Male Champions of Change to accelerate gender diversity in corporate leadership, Australia is a role model for other countries and companies to follow.
