

The Egyptian Bazarra

زى اچبش پيان جازيت

Mohamed Abul Hadeed

Board Chairman

gazette@eltahrir.net.eg

Established 1880

Ramadan A. Kader

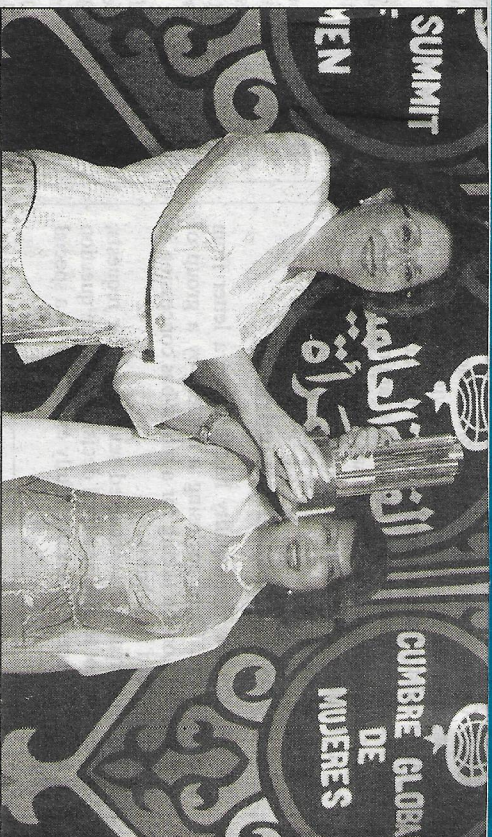

Editor-in-Chief

127th Year • Issue No • 41,007

8 Pages

Tuesday • June 13 • 2006

LE1

MRS Mubarak receiving the leadership award from the Davos for Women Summit which ended yesterday.

Mrs Mubarak gets leadership award from 'Davos for Women'

PARTICIPANTS in the World Women's Summit yesterday delivered the leadership award to Mrs Suzanne Mubarak in appreciation for her distinguished and continued efforts to serve world peace and improve the conditions of the family, children and education in Egypt.

Following the prize-giving ceremony, Mrs Mubarak expressed her deep thanks and gratitude to the summit, informally known as the "Davos for Women", which was convened under the theme 'Redefining Leadership'. More than 900 delegates from 88 countries attended the event.

The summit, which opened on Saturday and ended yesterday, aimed to boost women's economic and entrepreneurial progress worldwide.

Mrs Mubarak said at the opening ceremony that women's contributions to the world's economies as entrepreneurs, consumers, wage earners, educators and managers should be recognised.

Summit President Irene Natividad said Mrs Mubarak deserved the award as she has always shown full commitment to women-related issues and has worked hard to ensure their success.